Overview, Target Audience and Learner Outcome: The team caring for pediatric patients requires ongoing, focused training to successfully manage specialized and/or complex pediatric issues. This educational series will cover a variety of topics specific to the pediatric patient population. Physicians, Advanced Practice Providers, Nurses and Nursing Students, Respiratory Therapists, EMS Providers, Pediatricians, and other interested community pediatric healthcare providers will benefit from this education. After attending the educational event, the learner will report increased confidence and understanding of how to care for pediatric patients and increased knowledge of available resources to manage specialized and/or complex pediatric issues.

Objectives:

1. Discuss the differential diagnosis of shoulder and upper chest pain
2. Discuss important history and PE findings suggestive of uncommon injuries
3. Discuss imaging for shoulder and clavicle injuries
4. Discuss definitive care of uncommon injuries

Disclosures: Faculty – No disclosures reported. Planning Committee – No disclosures reported.
